ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS - SEMESTER 2 AY2019/2020
EXTENSION OF S/U OPTION AND CAPSTONE DEADLINE

Students may S/U any module taken in Semester Two of Academic Year 2019-20

Q. Where can I find information on the S/U policy?
A. For information on the S/U policy, please refer to Section 5 of the Undergraduate Regulations. For this current semester only you have the option to S/U any module including Common Curriculum modules and modules that count towards a major. This is in addition to the standard number of MC’s allowed during your candidature.

Q. What about for DDP students?
A. For information on the S/U policy, please refer to Section 5 of the Undergraduate Regulations. Note that for DDP students, you may not S/U any module that counts towards both the Yale-NUS degree and Faculty of Law degree, which includes your capstone. For additional questions and advice, you should contact your major advisor and/or the Head of Studies.

Q. What about for CDP students?
A. For information on the S/U policy, please refer to Section 5 of the Undergraduate Regulations. For questions specific to your situation on the CDP, you should contact your major advisor and the CDP Coordinator.

Q. How should I make the decision and who should I speak to about which modules, if any, I should S/U?
A. Each student will have to make individual decisions based on their particular circumstances. You should seek advice from as many sources as needed depending on your circumstances. You might start with your instructors, your academic advisor, other faculty or your AD. Questions regarding major requirements should be discussed with your major advisor or Head of Studies. CIPE is best placed to assist with questions related to employment and graduate school requirements.

Q. Can I S/U my capstone?
A. Yes, we allow this as an option except for those students in the DDP in Law and Liberal Arts.

Q. Why are the rules different for DDP in Law and Liberal Arts students?
A. DDP students count modules towards two different degrees, one of which is conferred outside the College. Any module that is counted towards both programmes is excluded from the S/U option.

Q. When will I be able to indicate which modules I want to S/U?
A. The S/U option declaration exercise will take place immediately after the release of the final results in June. Please look out for the email from Yale-NUS Registry on the release of final exam results and the S/U Option Declaration Exercise date and times.

Q. Can I carry forward any of the additional S/U’s?
A. No, you can only use the additional S/U allowance for courses taken this semester. You can carry forward your standard S/U allocation as normal.

Q. Can I exercise the S/U option on my NUS modules?
A. Yes, you can S/U your (non-Faculty of Law) NUS modules taken during semester 2 of AY2019/2020.
Q. When is the S/U option not applicable?
A. As per the Undergraduate Regulations, a student is not allowed to opt for S/U for a particular module under the following circumstances:
   - Module is dropped during the period when the “W” or “F” grade takes effect
   - Module for which a student is found responsible for plagiarism or other academic offences
   - Module that counts towards both programmes in the Double Degree Programme and the Concurrent Degree Programmes.

Q. I need help with my CAP calculation to decide whether I should exercise S/U option.
A. You can use the CAP Calculator for CAP simulation.

Q. I have overloaded this semester. Can I S/U any or all of these modules?
A. You can S/U all modules taken this semester but you should consider carefully which modules to S/U.

Q. Can I S/U Common Curriculum modules?

Q. Can I S/U my Historical Immersions module?
A. Yes, you can S/U a Historical Immersions module.

Q. If I S/U my capstone, does it apply to all 10 MCs at once?
A. The S/U would apply for the full capstone (10 MCs).

Q. Can I S/U a module I have dropped?
A. No, as per the Yale-NUS Undergraduate Regulations, you may not exercise the S/U option for a dropped module. You can choose to drop a module up to 5 pm, Friday of Instructional Week 13 without incurring an F grade. It is not possible to convert a “W grade” to satisfactory or unsatisfactory (S or U).

Q. I have received an ‘In-Progress’ grade for one of my Semester 2 AY2019/2020 modules. Can I exercise the S/U option for that module?
A. Yes, if you have an “IP” or “In-Progress” grade on a module you can still exercise the S/U option once the “IP” is converted to a letter grade. Yale-NUS Registry will contact you at that time.

The deadline for submission of capstone projects will be extended by one week.

Q. What is the new capstone deadline?
A. Capstone projects will be due on 10 April 2020.

Q. Will faculty have additional time to mark capstones?
A. The length of the period allowed for marking capstones will not change, but will be pushed back one week to accommodate the extended deadline for students.

Q. Will all capstones be marked?
A. Yes, all capstones will be marked whether or not you indicate you expect to S/U your capstone.
